

The Three Little Pigs

Once upon a time, there were three little pigs.

The first little pig made a house of straw.

The second little pig made a house of sticks.

The third little pig worked hard and made a house of bricks.

One day, a big bad wolf came to the straw house.

“Little pig! Let me in!” he said.

But the pig answered,

“No! No! No!”

Then the wolf said,

“I’ll huff, and I’ll puff,

and I’ll blow your house down!”

So he blew the straw house down.

The little pig ran to his brother’s stick house.

Soon the wolf came there too.

He huffed and puffed and blew the stick house down.

The two pigs ran to the brick house.

Then the wolf came again.

“Little pigs! Let me in!”

But the pigs said,

“No! No! No!”

The wolf huffed and puffed again and again,

but he could not blow the brick house down.

“I will come down the chimney!” shouted the wolf.

But the pigs made a fire.

The wolf came down the chimney—PLOP!

He jumped out and ran away.

The three little pigs lived happily ever after.
